

The Committee on House Administration's Republican Office web site, which is the online home of the Republican Members of the Committee of the House of Representatives charged with the oversight of federal elections and the day-to-day functions of the House of Representatives, has been redesigned for increased usability and improved functionality based on the needs of Republican Members of the House of Representatives.

The Committee's Republican Web site, which is available at <http://gop.cha.house.gov/> , features many exciting changes, including:

- Events Calendar - Keep track of the latest events on the Committee's "Upcoming Events" calendar, accessible from the homepage of the web site. The calendar includes all upcoming Full Committee and Subcommittee Hearings, Franking deadlines, and other events of interest.

- Quick Jump Menus - New "drop down" menus put the Committee's most often requested information and documents at the user's fingertips. The "How Do I" feature provides fast access to several of the most frequently asked questions received by our Member Services and Franking Office. The "Document Quick Search" feature makes the most-used documents available at the touch of a button.

- Improved navigation - Member Services and Franking pages include rollover left navigation that groups the most useful advice and form by the type of mailing, and both sections feature a list of forms and frequently asked questions on the section home for easy access.

For additional information, or to suggest further improvements, contact the Committee at 5-8281, or by e-mail at cha.gopcommunications@mail.house.gov .